

Get into teaching ... Train with the best!

The Brooke Weston Teaching School is based in Great Oakley, Northamptonshire. With mentoring from outstanding practitioners, university teaching from leading providers and teaching practice in a range of our Alliance school members across the region, we are the obvious choice for quality teacher training in the Midlands.

We are:

An Alliance of primary and secondary schools primarily based in Northamptonshire, with impressive teaching school facilities in our outstanding lead school, Brooke Weston. Our ethos is simple, to develop the best possible teachers, by recruiting those who wish to advance far and fast in the profession. In return you will have the opportunity to experience a range of educational settings. This may include our primary, secondary and all-through Academies, all of which offer diverse teaching environments.

You are:

A candidate with a good degree classification, wide subject knowledge and a positive attitude. We are looking to recruit and train confident individuals who will act as good role models to our students. It is not just about your subject knowledge, you must be a well-rounded individual who is able to inspire students, encouraging qualities such as independence, creativity and respect.

We can offer:

- Top quality training
- Classroom experience
- Close partnership with universities
- A range of school placements across our Alliance
- Mentor support

- Secondary, subject specific experience within a department.
- NQT support
- Continued professional development
- Employment opportunities across the Alliance for successful recruits.
