

PRESS RELEASE

January 2023

Corby Business Academy has been recognised for its commitment to helping pupils stay safe online

Corby Business Academy is now a National Online Safety Certified School

Corby Business Academy has successfully completed a comprehensive online safety training programme demonstrating its commitment to keeping children and young people safe online.

The Corby Business Academy – has received a National Online Safety Certified School Accreditation for its whole school community approach to protecting children in the online world.

National Online Safety is a multi-award winning digital training provider with extensive resources in online safety, developed in line with the Department of Education's statutory requirements.

Its CPD accredited courses and educational resources support UK schools in educating the whole school community in online safety– including all senior leaders, teachers, all school staff and parents – on how to make the internet a safer place for children.

James Southworth, co-founder of National Online Safety, said: "Congratulations to everyone at Corby Business Academy on becoming a National Online Safety Certified School. By completing our training programme, the school has shown its strong commitment to implementing an effective whole school approach to online safety."

"It can be increasingly difficult for schools and parents to stay ahead of online threats and ensure both children and staff are safeguarded from potentially harmful and inappropriate online material. We arm schools with the knowledge they need to understand online dangers and react in the best way possible to any problems."

Simon Underwood, Principal at Corby Business Academy, said: "This certification aligns with our commitment to Online Safety, as well as our curriculum vision and planning. We are pleased and proud to continue with the important work required around this topic.

The vital partnership between parents and carers, students and schools quite rightly focuses on joint responsibility for Online Safety. We understand our role in today's society and also appreciate the vigilance of our families and community to support young people."

Amy Harris, Designated Safeguarding Lead at Corby Business Academy stated: "This is a fantastic achievement that reflects our ongoing development of online safety and to ensure staff are well equipped to safeguard our students with being safe online."

Any schools that would like to discuss their online safety provision or would like access to up to date online safety learning resources, are encouraged to contact National Online Safety on 0800 368 8061.

About National Online Safety

National Online Safety are a multi-award winning provider of CPD accredited courses and educational resources which help to support schools in their online safety provision. We equip school leaders, staff, parents and pupils with the knowledge they need to understand online dangers by adopting a 'whole school approach' towards online safety, with a belief that safeguarding children online does not stop at the school gates.

We pride ourselves on being at the forefront of online safeguarding for children and young people. Our team are passionate and dedicated to delivering innovative and engaging content which can be accessed anywhere in the world, anytime, using any device. The highly responsive nature of the company means that we are constantly updating our training and learning materials to meet both changes in statutory and regulatory guidance released by the Department for Education.

Our Certified Schools Membership responds to current DfE statutory policy around online safety, including the revised 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' guidance, which came into effect in September 2021. The package includes award-winning online safety e-learning, resources and updates for the whole school community, including designated roles, teachers, non-teaching staff governors, pupils and parents/carers.
